Mr. Rain, Mr. Rain why do you look so sad.

Miss Lori children don't like me which makes me feel bad.

Mr. Rain, Mr. Rain don't worry the children know that you are very important, that you help us grow.

Sunny days are nice it's true,
But too much sun can make us blue.
Flowers wilt and trees turn brown.
There's no more grass left on the ground.
But when the rain comes from the sky
Flowers bloom and trees grow high

Scoop, scoop, scoop up your arms make a cloud, just one.
Circle, circle, circle the sky. Floating around, its' fun.
Burst open your cloud, wiggle your fingers, make rain around the room.
Water your friends, water the world, and sing our little tune.

Rain, Rain you can stay,
Sunshine needs a rest today.
Rain, rain don't you go,
You are what will help us grow.

Miss Lori, Miss Lori I wanted to thank you.
The children really like me, what you said is true.
Miss Lori, Miss Lori make sure the children know
The sun is also important, we both help them to grow.

Rainy days are nice it's true,
But too much rain can make us blue.
Flowers droop and trees will drown.
Rain makes puddles on the ground.
But when the sun shines in the sky
Flowers bloom and trees grow high

Scoop, scoop, scoop up your arms, make the shape of a sun.
Circle, circle, circle the sky. Round and round, its' fun.

Burst open your sun, spread your arms, share warmth with the room,
Warm up your friends, warm up the world, and sing our little tune.

Sun, Sun you can stay
Rain clouds need a rest today
Sun, Sun don't you go.
You are what will help us grow.

So next time when you see a cloud,
wave to it and say out loud.
“Rain, Rain, we need you,
we also need the sunshine too.”

Mr. Rain, we need you.
We also need the sunshine too.
